Thomas Seis

Human-, Animal- and Spatial-Energetician, Pan Gu Shen Gong - Instructor

From my earliest childhood I developed an interest in metaphysics and a gift for recognizing problems and illnesses in other people through mediumship and finding solutions for them through energetic means. My grandmother, a self-confessed "forest, meadow and herb witch", initiated me very soon into the secrets of the natural pharmacy and so my deep connection to nature and the 4 or 5 elements developed.

When I was 5 1/2 years old, I met my future Chinese "master" of many years, who carefully trained me step by step to become a Shaolin and taught me accordingly in the Far Eastern philosophy and way of life. This significantly influenced my spiritual development.

After graduating from school, I began an intensive training/education by my master and thus became a world traveler, also gaining various practical life and professional experiences. I studied metaphysics, psychology, philosophy of religion and natural medicine in the USA and additionally trained in psychotherapy there. There I also intensively occupied myself with the knowledge of the Indian medicine men and with my hobby, the "Orgonomy" of Wilhelm Reich. I finished my Shaolin training in China with a longer stay in a monastery and studies of Chinese philosophy, religion and Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM). As a personal student and certified PGSG instructor of the internationally known Qigong Grandmaster, Master Ou Wen Wei, I strive to make PGSG known especially in German-speaking countries and to make it practically accessible to the general public. My studies, training and further education, various activities all over the world and my work with countless needy people worldwide give me the necessary experience and inner peace, which I now pass on, among other things, in my seminars, workshops and courses.

In 2007 I settled in Upper Bavaria and since then I have been passing on my skills and knowledge as well as my practical experience to interested fellow human beings.

Until 2020 I was based in Leutasch/Tyrol where I passed on my knowledge and skills in my seminars, workshops and courses, energetic applications and Qi transmission sessions.

Since 2020 I now also have the opportunity to offer my knowledge and energetic assistance in my own energetic practice Thomas Seis in Büriswilen/ Switzerland and am therefore very happy to welcome you here again at my webinars, workshops and courses, energetic applications and Qi transmission sessions.

With much light and love in my heart,

Your

Thomas Seis
